Swamp Meadow Community Theatre was brought to life in 2002 by 15-year-old Amy Hollis. With help from local organizations, the participation of talented volunteers, and support from all of Foster, it became the family-oriented theatre it is today.

SMCT strives to produce quality, yet affordable entertainment that anyone can enjoy. New volunteers are always welcome to perform, design, build, or support the theatre. From seasoned actors to first-time performers, locals come together to create memorable productions, develop their skills, and engage in the community spirit.

As the theatre grows, so does the need for support. SMCT always invites new members to join in and help us continue to create impressive productions. SMCT would like to have its own building someday for performances, workshops, music, and other intriguing programs the community has enjoyed for so long. If you cannot donate your time and effort, monetary donations are always welcome.

Whether you want to show your talent onstage, offstage or backstage, there are opportunities for you. Join in the fun!

SMCT Presents
A SEASON OF LITERARY GENIUS

A Note from the Executive Director

This season, SMCT is going to take a trip inside our minds! Willy Wonka Jr., One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, It's a Wonderful Life, and Jesus Christ Superstar will bring us on a journey through imaginative eccentricity, personal and institutional craziness, depression, and the struggles within that affect the community.

As we travel these powerful and entertaining journeys, we will learn lessons about the triumph of love. Our season's plays all share insight into the human mind and experience, and like life, they are filled with lots of laughter, plenty of tears, struggles and triumph, despair and hope, true life and love. We look forward to the challenge of bringing life to you in a way that you are entertained, touched, and moved.

We are grateful for the works of Roald Dahl, Mel Stuart and Tim Burton; Ken Kesey and Dale Wasserman; Philip Van Doren Stern and Frank Capra; and Tim Rice and Andrew Lloyd Weber. They brought the stories to page and stage and screen. We hope to bring those stories to your heart!

Bob Hollis — Executive Director

Director's Note

About a year ago, a young Zach Farnum came up to me and told me that SMCT was planning on putting on an adaptation of Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. I jumped onto this occasion, telling Zach that I would do anything to help with the play (costumes, props, or anything for that matter). I never realized that a year later I would be writing this letter.

To this day Charlie and the Chocolate Factory is one of my favorite stories. I remember reading about imagination and the wonderful man who could make magical dreams come true as a young child. Roald Dahl's story of wonderment and joy left me awed and happy. Every single character was memorable and they almost felt real. You lived through their lives and you felt for them. Humor was mixed in the overall lesson to behave and be a good child. I believe that is why Willy Wonka and Charlie have survived the test of time and still bring joy to children and adults alike- they are REAL! We've all wanted to meet in our lifetime our "Willy Wonka," that person who brings us ultimate joy and wisdom.

I was truly blessed to be in this production. Many people have grown as actors and people before my eyes. In addition, we had many people who took away from their free time to help with the play. So whether you prefer the new or old movie versions or the book (I prefer the book myself), the story of golden tickets, magical factories and dancing little people is always a magical one. Heres hoping you find your golden ticket!
